STEP 1 – Your Golf Club must meet the USGA’s definition of a Golf Club. Check appropriate box:

Definition of a “Golf Club”

A "Golf Club" is an organization of at least ten individual members that operates under bylaws with committees (including a Handicap Committee) to supervise golf activities, provide peer review, and maintain the integrity of the USGA Handicap System (see Compliance Checklist, Section 8-2m and Decision 2/7). A golf club must be licensed by the USGA to issue Handicap Indexes to its members. A club can obtain a license (see Appendix F) directly from the USGA or through its membership in an authorized golf association that is already licensed by the USGA and that has jurisdiction in the geographic area that includes the principal location of the golf club.

Members of a golf club must have a reasonable and regular opportunity to play golf with each other. They must be able to return scores personally, and these scores must be readily available for inspection by others, including but not limited to fellow members and the club's Handicap Committee.

Meet the USGA definition of a golf club as defined.

STEP 2 – You must also determine for which type of Club you qualify. Check appropriate box:

A Golf Club fits into one of the following three categories:

Help OK

- Type 1 - It is located at a single specific golf course with a valid USGA Course and Slope Rating where a majority of the club's events are played and where the club's scoring records reside; or
- Type 2 - Its members are affiliated, or known to one another, via a business, fraternal, ethnic or social organization. The majority of the club members had an affiliation prior to organizing the club; or
- Type 3 - The members had no prior affiliation and a majority of the recruiting and sign-up of the membership is done by solicitation to the general public (e.g., newspaper, Internet).
